TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Second Day's Session Largely Attended—Various Branches of Work Discussed.

The second day's session of the Marion county teachers' institute was largely attended. While there are teachers of all degrees of experience, about 35 per cent. of the number present were beginners. There are a few gray-haired veterans there whose experience reaches back to the dawn of educational work in the county. One of these is Prof. John Cooper, who is a charter member of the State Teachers' Association. Miss Louie Huff, of Broad Ripple, is present, as she has been at every institute, except one, during the past thirty years. The color of the hair and expression of countenance does not seem to indicate to any degree of certainty the number of years of experience. Teachers young in years can be seen in the assembly whose hair is decidedly tinged with gray. This would indicate that they have worked hard with the young minds of the county.

The session yesterday morning opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. Cooper, of Irvington. Professor Fetzsch then reviewed the lesson of Monday regarding the best method of presenting a subject to a young pupil. He attached particular importance to the use of objects to give the pupil conception of size, color, etc. Prof. Sanders followed with a talk on grammar and how to use the Indiana edition. He took the institute as a class and gave lessons in adjectives and adverbs, illustrating his method of teaching by blackboard diagrams.

The morning session closed with remarks by Professor Fetzsch regarding rhetorical expressions, which was a review of Monday's work. During the morning session Miss Nellie Ballard, of Haughville, rendered a piano solo.

In the afternoon Prof. Sanders gave some valuable suggestions on the teaching of geography and history. He thought, in the former study, that great attention should be given to the study of people, animals and climate. Upon these subjects the minds of the young people become interested first of all. He also spoke of corporal punishment. He opposed this very strongly, but thought there might be an exceptional case when such punishment is necessary. Kindness, however, should be tried to the very utmost as it is seldom, he thought, that a pupil is found who cannot be affected most by a kind word. Professor Fetzsch spoke on the condition of school rooms at the opening of the term. He thought the most important thing devolving upon the teacher is to see that the room is tidy and comfortable. The state of mind of the young pupils depends largely upon the surroundings.

Sent to the House of the Good Shepherd, Nellie Leavell, the Marion girl detained at police headquarters since last Sunday, was sent to the House of the Good Shepherd yesterday afternoon, where she will be allowed an opportunity of securing the education for which she pines.

GAMBLERS AND "MACHINE"

One of the City Inspectors Said to Be Interested in a Fourth Ward "Dive."

Sullivan Locating Lights with an Eye to Votes—"Kickers" at the Hendricks Club—Fixing the Voting Places.

The numerous crap-shooting dives and faro-bank rooms down town are preparing for the big rush of business expected with the encampment. One of the business administration's inspectors has an interest in one of the crap dives and wine rooms in the Fourth ward, and it is said that this dive will not have to put up as much blackmail for Sullivan's campaign expenses as the down town dives, on account of the pail the inspector has with the administration. The other dive keepers are told a different story, however, when they protest against putting up big sums, while this Fourth-ward joint is let off easy. They are told that the inspector's dive is far away from the central portion of the city, and not, therefore, capable of fleecing so many people as the other Sullivan dives down town. Some of the gambling houses will now put in extra crap tables since Superintendent Colbert issued his orders forbidding outside gamblers from entering the city to compete with the local gamblers for the spoils that are expected to come next week. "Bill" Tron will probably have another table, making three altogether in his dive.

Despite the orders of Superintendent Colbert, there will be a great many outside gamblers here, and the quiet word has gone out that they will be allowed to remain if they put up a large enough sum for the little Mayor. The committee will not officially make any overtures with the crooks. There is a gang of Chicago crooks that are allowed to stay in that city by making certain "concessions" to the detectives and police. It is said that the gang intends to come here next week. Large sums of the blackmail exacted from the gamblers is to be put into the hands of the Democratic firemen for proper distribution on the South Side, and the trusted policemen are also to be made contributors. Any day a number of firemen, supposed to be on duty, can be seen going from place to place on the South Side, campaigning for Sullivan in this campaign work the Democratic Mr. Catterson is a "Bob-fixer."

One of the leading lights of the Sullivan machine remarked yesterday: "It is all bosh for you fellows to talk about the gamblers making preparations for the old soldiers. They are not going to make a special bid for the city, because the boys will catch enough business from the people who come with the old soldiers. Then, the old soldier is not going to bring a great deal of business to them, and will not change either one of them till they get back home again. What if Tom Sullivan does let the boys keep on their gambling houses? You cannot keep out gambling, and under Sullivan's regulation they are kept clean and run by first-class men. You do not hear of crooked dice and brace faro games."

"Stringtown" is a part of the city that extends along West Washington street from the river bridge. A political effort is now being made by the Democratic committee to colonize Haughville heifers in the Fourth ward. The committee intend to get in several hundred illegal votes in that ward. The saloon element and the rowdies have had a large influence in Haughville, and they promise to give Chairman Targart all the aid in their power to help him carry the city for the Sullivan machine.

Hendricks Club Janitor. There is quite a howl among the Democratic workers who hang around the Hendricks Club rooms over the selection of the janitor made some time ago. Since the present financial stringency came along a number of the faithful have been thrown out of positions, and a few want to be the official janitor of the Hendricks Club. The present incumbent is John Johnson, who hails from Shelbyville, and draws a salary of $60 a month. He held office in Shelbyville for a considerable time, came to Indianapolis and got on the doorkeeper's payroll in the House of Representatives. Afterwards he dropped into the berth at the club. The sole complaint against him is that he is an "imported" politician.

Mayor Locating Lights. In the Fifth and Fourth wards the Sullivan administration expects its heifers to be effective, and great preparations are being made by the administration to get in its work in these two wards. The Mayor and his secretary have been trying to locate electric lights up in these wards, despite the schedule that the Board of Works expects to file for the new lights. The Mayor will give positive instructions to the board to place these lights so that they will benefit the scheme which the committee has up in these wards. A part of the Democratic plan in these two wards is to import Haughville heifers and have them vote.

To Select Voting Places. There will probably be a special meeting of the Council called this week to consider the ordinance approving the voting places. City Clerk Abrams will select the voting places. It is said those in the heavy Democratic precincts will be as near saloons as they can be placed.

Promote to "Col. Bill." "Col. Bill" Hicklin has been a constant visitor at Mayor Sullivan's office during the last fifteen days, and has been in daily consultation with the prominent machine leaders. It is reported that "Col. Bill" is to be given a cabinet position after the election.

MONUMENT AFFAIRS.

Cementing the Spaces for Statues—Commission to Meet To-day. The bare space about the Morton statue, as well as the other spaces in Monument Place left vacant for the three remaining statues, were filled with cement yesterday. There appears to have been some misunderstanding among the members of the monument commission regarding this work. Commissioner English, yesterday, questioned the authority of the works of the monument vacant places. They referred him to Mr. McIntosh, who, in turn, referred the Commissioner to President Langdale, who, the superintendent said, had ordered the work done. Mr. English spoke rather gruffly of the matter, and did not know when the board had ever taken action regarding the work. It was thought best by President Langdale to have the places filled on account of the crowds which are expected to visit the monument next week. The cement has been so placed that it can easily be taken up when the statues are put in place.

The monument commission will meet to-day. One of the principal matters for consideration will be the kind of power which shall be used to run the elevator.

Mortgages to Secure the Bank. There was filed for record, yesterday afternoon, a deed for lot 96, in Morton Place, the consideration for which was $2,000. The deed is one of four executed by the Martindale-Hubbard syndicate, to Charles E. Merrill, as trustee for the Indianapolis National Bank, but one of which has as yet been placed on file. The other deeds are for lots 4, 171 and 170, and were executed in January of 1892.

Want to Organize Militia Companies.

Adjutant General Robbins has received applications from Valparaiso, Orleans and

Freemont for permission to organize State militia companies. Mr. Robbins replied to all these requests that the organizations cannot be effected now, as the appropriations

by the Legislature are not sufficient to sustain them. There are now forty-six in the State and only forty-eight could be provided for.

STREET-CAR ACCIDENTS.

Mrs. Dretz's Effort to Alight from a Moving Car—Carriage Struck.

Mrs. Frank Dretz, living at 406 Madison avenue, attempted to alight from a moving West Washington-street car yesterday morning. She was thrown to the pavement with such force that she suffered concussion of the brain. Dr. Marsee, the attending physician, thinks Mrs. Dretz's recovery is doubtful.

A German named Klein, living in Hancock county, has been visiting his daughter at 80 Gaylord avenue. Yesterday morning he decided to try the pleasure of an electric car ride. At the corner of Washington street and Jefferson avenue he attempted to alight from a moving Irvington car. He received a fall, together with injuries from which he will not recover for several days.

Charles A. Bright, living at the corner of Fourteenth and Meridian streets, attempted to cross the North Illinois car track in a carriage yesterday morning near Fall creek. A car was coming from each direction, and in trying to avoid one Mr. Bright drove in front of the other. The carriage was struck and the occupant thrown headlong in the road. Dr. Marsee was called and pronounced his injuries serious, though not dangerous.

PAID-UP STOCK TO BE TAXED

Important Decision of the Commission Affecting Building Associations.

It Follows the Doctrine Laid Down by the Attorney-General—Various Appeals Heard—Chicago Pipe Line Company.

Second in importance only to the taxation of the railroad companies was the action of the State Board of Tax Commission yesterday in the matter of building and loan associations. For several days the board has been considering the matter of assessing paid-up stock in the associations, and the question has received more attention than any other in the executive sessions. Yesterday a decision was reached, and hereafter all such shares will be taxed as par value. The board was unanimous in the opinion, it is said, that money placed in paid-up shares was simply a loan to the associations for which the lender received from 6 to 8 per cent, and in the end shared in the general profits of the association. The members did not believe that the law exempting building and loan stock from taxation was intended to give immunity to such loans, and, acting upon this theory, they determined that it should bear its burden just as other capital invested in an interest-paying business. In the discussions on the subject it was clearly the opinion of the board that the law was being evaded when the owners of paid-up shares were not assessed. As a result of the determination reached by the board the several county auditors of the State will be instructed to make inquiry of the local auditors of the various building and loan associations, and it is estimated that a large amount of money will thus be added to the tax dupliques.

The State Auditor estimates that the total number of building and loan associations in the State will reach 450, and as all of these have more or less shares fully paid up, the decision of yesterday will no doubt affect every association in the State. The corporate capital of the associations aggregates nearly $300,000,000, but just how much of this is paid in or how much is represented in paid-up shares is not known.

CHICAGO PIPE LINE'S APPEAL.

The commission continued yesterday to hear appeals from counties. No decisions will be given until all the appeals have been heard. The first appeal yesterday was made by the Indiana Natural Gas Company, through its representative, ex-Judge Winfield, of Logansport. The company is assessed upon property in Howard, Miami and Cass counties. The company claims that the property had no franchise, the pipes were merely run through the county, and had been assessed by the County Board of Review. The assessment of the company thought was unjust. Mr. Winfield asked that the appeals from the other two counties be dismissed, and the request was granted by the board.

In the afternoon William Kerr, president of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, of Wingate, and John C. Wineste, his attorney, appeared before the board. The complaint was that the bank had been assessed at four-fifths of the amount of its capital stock. This assessment, it was claimed, was high in proportion to the assessment of other banks.

J. E. Schooner, of Attica, then presented an appeal from the decisions of the boards of Review of Fountain and Warren counties, regarding the assessment of the personal property of Clement G. Jones, deceased, of Warren county.

Luena Nebeker, of Covington, was the attorney for the heirs of the Jones estate that the property had been listed in both Warren and Fountain counties. The estate was from misunderstanding as to the residence of the deceased. He owned a farm in Warren county, and the evidence showed that he resided in Warren county with the intention of residing there permanently. He held money, notes and mortgages assessed in Fountain county at $25,000. The personal property was also assessed in Warren county. The question was to decide in which county he was to be assessed.

BANKER DAY RETURNS.

Has Been Staying at Flint, Mich.—His Bank Was Not in Such Bad Shape.

Frederick T. Day, the Milwaukee banker who was brought prominently to the attention of Indianapolis people by virtue of his short stay here several months ago, returned to Milwaukee from Flint, Mich., yesterday, to give bond in the Plankinton Bank cases. The bond is already made out. Mr. Day is indicted by the grand jury. A number of the sensational reports that were sent out about Mr. Day have proved to be without foundation. The banks in Milwaukee will now pay 90 cents on the dollar for claims against the Plankinton bank. One of the large firms that had borrowed $10,000 from the bank has paid back $9,000 of this amount. At the time Mr. Day left Milwaukee it was reported that this claim was absolutely worthless.

PRETENDED TO BE A MARSHAL.

Frank Claycamp, a Fort Wayne Attorney, in Trouble for Impersonating an Officer.

Frank Claycamp, an attorney at Fort Wayne, was brought to this city last night and confined in the county jail on a commitment issued by Commissioner Leonard, of the Fort Wayne district. The charge upon which he is held is personating a United States marshal, the affidavit against him being filed by Deputy Marshal Wilkerson, who brought him to this city. He was upon his way to receive a Toledo, O., where Claycamp formerly resided. The affidavit charges that, on Aug. 24, he boarded a Clover-leaf train, and secured free passage by representing himself as a United States marshal. His bond was fixed at $500, and in default of bond he is held awaiting the action of the United States marshal.

BURGLARY EXTRAORDINARY.

Thieves Back Up a Dray and Cart Away a Safe—Rifled Near the Workhouse.

An extraordinary safe robbery occurred early yesterday morning. In this case dynamite, jimmies and drill were not brought into use. The safe was picked up bodily by the robbers and carted away. The safe and contents were the property of A. C. Keers, saloon keeper at the corner of Clark and New York streets. It weighed about eight hundred pounds, and contained $3 in cash and some private papers. Harry Thrush, the Merchant policeman in that vicinity, saw a wagon containing three men drive up in front of the saloon about 8 o'clock. He said he thought it was a baker's wagon. He stood and watched the thieves roll the safe out of the saloon. What he could have thought of the safe being carried away in a baker's wagon he did not state. After the thieves had accomplished their work, Thrush awoke the saloon keeper, but it was too late. Yesterday afternoon the safe was found along Fall creek, near the workhouse. The doors had been cracked, and the money and papers were gone. The thieves are still at large.
